CPFI President Report November 2016

As I stated in my June report under the new Bylaws I can serve one more year before I have to relinquish my role as President. I continue to enjoy this role and feel blessed to serve in this capacity. I want to thank you again for placing your confidence in me. I continue to try to meet needs, respond in a timely manner to all requests and provide oversight to CPFI activities. I have had weekly conference calls with the Administrative Director to help assure timely response to any problems, needs or questions. I have submitted several articles each year for publication in The Faith Script as well as preparing a monthly prayer that we e-blast out to the membership. I am unaware of any critical issues facing CPFI that needs immediate attention or resolution. The Board conducted a strategic planning session at the summer 2016 meeting. We have also had one subsequent telephone board meeting since June. Many of the items identified in the strategic planning session have been completed or in a process of being accomplished. One of the items that we discussed in Myrtle Beach was should we work differently with CMDA. This a topic, among several others, that I would like for us to continue to discuss when we meet in Louisville in November.

Respectfully submitted

Executive Director Report November 2016

The Board voted at the June meeting in Myrtle Beach for me to continue in my role as Executive Director for the 2016-2017 term. My activities in this role have been to offer administrative support when needed. I have prepared several articles for publication in The Faith Script, with another one coming in November. I also assist Nena with this publication as needed through occasionally proof reading articles and also more substantially when we publish our three full issues. This year we were also able to accomplish an upgrade for the design of our website home page which makes it appear more mobile friendly. A full upgrade is planned when necessary components to meet our organizational needs are worked into the new platform. I also review membership renewals for lapsed renewing members and make determinations for adjusting expiration dates based on the number of months the membership has been delinquent.
