CPFI Serving Christ and the World Through Pharmacy

Volume 28
Issue 7
November
2011

Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly, teaching and admonishing one another in all wisdom, singing psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, with thankfulness in your hearts to God. And whatever you do, in word or deed, do everything in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the Father through him. (Col. 3:16,17 ESV)

Thanksgiving is a time to reflect on how God has been working in our lives. I pray that each of us will allow Christ's word to dwell deeply in our hearts and that we will find time to worship our Savior. The daily challenges that come our way can be viewed with joy and thanksgiving if we choose to look at them from God's perspective. If we let His word dwell in our heart, and if we use those times to teach and admonish people around us, then we will be free to worship Him in songs and hymns. He will give us thankfulness in our heart that will impact those around us.

It is the prayer and the desire of CPFI that we can be an encouragement to you to be a light and word of encouragement to those that you work with and the patients that you care for. This teaching from Paul makes it clear that our responsibility is to be faithful to be in God's word and then use it to teach and admonish others. When we are faithful to do that, then He will fill our hearts with thankfulness that will overflow into worship and enable us to be a blessing to others.

Greetings CPFI members & friends!

Last week, just prior to the Global Missions Health Conference in Louisville, Kentucky, our Board of Directors had its Fall meeting. I am thankful for the reports on what is happening through this ministry. We were able to finalize many of the program details and arrangements for the upcoming annual meeting in Colorado Springs June 7-10th, 2012. On-line registration is now open.

We also heard a great report about the student ministry around the country. We continue to see growth in the overall number of student members. However, we have been concerned about the increasing number of students that do not take the next step and become professional members. The membership committee, along with student chapter leadership, will be working on that in the months ahead. Please check out the recent National Student Council newsletter on the website for some of the exciting stories and you may also view a listing of student chapters.

The budget for the next year was approved and we reviewed the current financial situation. As we approach Thanksgiving and the end of this year, we do need your financial gifts to allow this ministry to meet its obligations and continue to grow. We will be sending out a financial appeal to our membership this week. If you would like to make a gift to CPFI, you can go directly to the web and make either a one-time contribution or regular recurring donation (for example a monthly donation). The funds for a recurring donation will be transferred automatically from your checking account or from a credit card.

I hope this brief update encourages you to keep this ministry in your daily prayers and to share God's joy with others. May your heart be filled with thanksgiving as you allow His word to dwell within you.

Director Iowa Drug Information Network, University of Iowa, Iowa City, IA
